VI- Reading Comprehension (110 Marks)

Read the following passage carefully, and then answer the questions below:

Mr. Henry at the end of the street was a different fellow with a different kind of house. What made it so different, you ask? Well, it was full of animals. He shared his home with rescued animals that regular animal shelters couldn't keep. He had an exotic animal's license, which gave him permission to have things like monkeys, large cats, and other strange creatures live on his property.

If you passed by his neighbourhood, you'd immediately know which house was his. His was the one with the ivy-covered brick wall around it and the iron gate across the driveway. Once you went inside, the hedges lining the driveway were craved into the shapes of animals. There was a dolphin jumping, a kangaroo hopping, a giraffe reaching skyward, and a squirrel holding an acorn. There were other pretty plants on the grounds, too.

From the outside it just looked like an old brick mansion, but it held a lot of surprises. The double doors with the lion's head doorknockers opened into a large tile entryway. In the wooden paneled walls all around, there were fish tanks with exotic and colorful fishes. The ceilings were painted with scenes from around the world, all full of plants and rare animals.

Continuing down the hall, you came to a large courtyard, which had been caged in, partly open to the sky. A pack of tiny monkeys shimmied up and down ornamental trees and swung from vines. Behind that, the hall continued to a room full of snakes and lizards. It felt like a desert in that room, so dry and hot. It was not everyone's favorite room, but it certainly was interesting.

You had to leave the building through the back doors and walk down a covered walkway to a large cage, much like the glass bird cage or a greenhouse, but much larger. It was where you would usually find Mr. Henry on a marble bench next to some carvings of jungle animals. He was watching the Bengal tiger that prowled back and forth inside the cage, a growling beast that occasionally showed its fangs, but seemed to have an understanding with its landlord.

Mr. Henry's house was the strangest and most unique place in town, a place very well worth seeing. He let kids from the neighborhood come see his house but only if they had written permission from their parents.

I- Choose the correct answer from a, b, c and d: (5 x 10 = 50 Marks)

28- Which of the following can be the best title for the passage?

- a. Wild Animals
- b. The Scary House
- c. Snakes and Lizards
- d. Mr. Henry's House

29- The underlined word "it" in paragraph 1 refers to .....

- a. house
- b. street
- c. permission
- d. neighborhood

30- The underline word shimmied in paragraph 4 nearly means:

- a. painted
- b. enjoyed
- c. climbed
- d. cleaned

31- According to the passage, ONE of the following statements is Not TRUE:

- a. Mr. Henry's house was full of animals.
- b. You had to leave the building through the back doors.
- c. Kids were allowed to visit the place without any written permission.
- d. Mr. Henry's house was the strangest and most unique place in the town.

32- According to the passage, what seems to be Mr. Henry's favorite animal at his house.

- a. the tiger
- b. the dolphin
- c. the squirrel
- d. the kangaroo

II- Answer the following questions: (4 x 15 = 60 Marks)

33- Why was Mr. Henry's house different?

It was full of animals. He shared his home with rescued animals that regular animal shelters couldn't keep like monkeys, large cats, and other strange creatures live on his property.

34- Where could one find Mr. Henry usually?

You would usually find Mr. Henry on a marble bench next to some carvings of jungle animals.

35- How were the ceilings of the house decorated?

The ceilings were painted with scenes from around the world, all full of plants and rare animals.

36- What exhibit or animal room seemed to be the least popular among most people?

A room full of snakes and lizards. It felt like a desert in that room, so dry and hot.

VII- Summary Making (60 Marks)

Read the following passage, then do as required:

Good friends bring so many colors of happiness in your life. Friends are wonderful sometimes. They make you laugh, and they're there for you when times are tough.

Fortunately, making new friends doesn't have to be hard, especially once you know where to look and how to put yourself out there. If you want to make friends, make yourself available to meet people. Look for opportunities to talk to people by joining a club. Make eye contact and smile. If you don't present a friendly appearance, people are less likely to be receptive to your friendship. Be reliable. When you say you'll do something, do it. Be someone that people can count on. To have good friends, be a good friend yourself.

(نختار فقط 4 أفكار)
