VI. Reading Comprehension (16 Marks)

Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow.

16

In a small, sunny village, there stood an old tree known to everyone as the Kindness Tree. It had wide, welcoming branches and leaves. The tree wasn't magical, but it was very special because it reminded all the villagers to be good and caring to one another.

One morning, a thoughtful boy named Saleh was walking home when he noticed his elderly neighbour, Mr. Hassan, struggling to carry two heavy bags. Saleh ran to him and kindly said, "Let me help you with those, Mr. Hassan!" He carefully carried one of the bags all the way to his kitchen. Mr. Hassan was so grateful. "Thank you, Saleh," he said warmly. "Your kindness truly makes a difference."

Feeling happy, Saleh continued to the playground, where he saw his friend Sami sitting alone on a bench, looking very sad. His favourite red toy car had a broken wheel. Remembering the good feeling he got from helping Mr. Hassan, Saleh sat down next to him. Together, they found some strong tape in his backpack and fixed the car. Sami's sadness vanished, replaced by a wide smile of joy.

A few days later, inspired by Saleh's kindness, Sami noticed a new student named Ali who had forgotten his lunch. He bravely walked over and shared his apple and sandwich with him. The following week, Ali decided to help water the dry plants in the school garden. Soon, more children and adults in the village began performing their own acts of kindness, from sharing umbrellas on rainy days to helping clean the community park.

To celebrate this wonderful change, the villagers started writing short notes about the kind acts they saw or did and put them on the Kindness Tree. The tree became a beautiful, colourful symbol of love and cooperation. Saleh smiled whenever he passed it, realising that kindness is like a small seed. If you plant it with care, it grows into something that spreads happiness far and wide, touching more hearts than you can ever imagine.
